

NEW Revolutionary Sponges Are Here

Changing the Positioning Sponge Paradigm

Occasionally, an innovation comes along that changes the way things are done. In our field, the invention of non-lead protective apparel comes to mind. For those that needed a lighter or an environmental-friendly alternative, non-lead options become the new way of doing things. Now, Techno-Aide is pleased to announce that another such innovation is here. Their new line of Stealth Cote and Stealth Core positioning sponges are going to change the way that technologists think about these positioning aids!

Welcome to the Revolution!

Creating an artifact-free positioning sponge wasn't an easy undertaking. A lot went into re-imagining a product that has become such a staple of the imaging process. The obvious starting point would be the materials that comprise a sponge. And while this innovative non-vinyl material went a long way in helping us achieve our goal, they wanted even more. They needed to consider other factors. That's when they began evaluating the shape of the radiology positioning sponges and the effect that shape had on the presence of line artifacts on an image. This is where the breakthrough happened. By altering the shape of the sponge, they found the unique combination of dimensions that resulted in Stealth Core and Stealth Cote sponges. They not only eliminated ghosting and line artifacts, they actually equalled (if not surpassed) the stability provided by the old-fashioned sponges!

But wait...there's more!

The materials that they chose for these sponges are anti-microbial, non-allergenic and - drum roll - easy to clean! How many times have you had a problem cleaning a non-vinyl sponge to the point where you wondered whether or not it was even worth it? It's yet another reason these positioning aids are so special - they leave NO artifacts behind and have a special coating that makes cleaning and disinfecting effortless and trouble-free. It's the best of both worlds, and then some.

The unique combination of shape, size and materials that went into this Stealth line of hyper-edge sponges is truly an innovation in our field. Once you try them, we're sure that you will agree. Just imagine...a day where you no longer have to worry about repeat testing due to outdated positioning sponges. Well, that day is today! Get in on the ground floor of this revolutionary product and be the most popular technologist in your facility. Not only will they love you, but your life will be so much easier. And that's our goal!
